

Conjunction

A conjunction joins
two words,
phrases or ideas.

but

because

or

and

so

yet

She has a red and blue dress.

I am hungry, but the fridge is empty.

Adjective

An adjective gives more information about a noun or pronoun.

I have a red dress.

They ate a large pizza.

slow

small

soft

round

blue

Pronoun

A pronoun is used in place of a noun.

one
person

I
you
me

group

us
they
we

animal
or thing

it

boy

he

him

girl

she

her

Noun

- Naming word -

Name of a person,
place, animals or
things.

Person	Place	Animal	Thing
girl	school	dog	book
mother	zoo	bee	flower
David	home	cow	shoe
teacher	playground	ant	table

Adverb

An adverb adds
to the verb.

Adverbs answer how,
where, when, how much and
how often questions.

She quietly
reads her book.

He laughed
loudly.

He works fast.

Preposition

A preposition tells you where things are in relation to each other.

above

in

under

on

next to

between

in front

behind

Verbs

A verb is a “doing” word.

A verb is a word which describes the action in a sentence.

Example:

We eat spaghetti.

I play soccer.

